Dear Esteemed Reader,

In your hands is a facsimile of antiquity, that in an age of digital media, will be the last stand of a dying platform. With the multitude peering into their smart devices; books, magazines and other publishings no longer have a place among the masses. They will now be relinquished to collectors of the eclectic and those whom hold dear the collective knowledge of the human species in its written form. A new era dawns on mankind, one predicated by history ushering in a new system of world domination from a centralized core, just like a network server. Our lives no longer bearing a physical presence, but existence in a digital metaverse, again, as predicated by the many books of antiquity in our collection. All that is yet to come, has been written about in great detail in every form of literature. One just has to take the time, crack open a book and absorb the benefits of the knowledge of the words simply by reading.

"The thing which hath been, it is that which shall be; and that which is done, is that which shall be done; and there is no new thing under the sun." - King Solomon

Our destiny, the repeat of history is certain. There is no doubt about that, as you will find in any conversation with peers. At this point in time, it is in your hands to determine your path in the days ahead. You can put this down, and never discover the benefits wrought from knowing true history as it was written. Or, if I may suggest, you take a gander at this here magazine and discover what cold hard evidence looks like, and begin the process of investigating forbidden history. The history you aren't supposed to know, the things they don't want you to ever find out. It's no mystery that we live in a world where our fate is decided upon behind closed doors, away from public view and scrutiny. There is no dispute; there is more than meets the eye in everything we read, hear, and see on the media provided to us by our name brand news outlets.

Cats out of the bag, many folks are turning to independent media for their information. We're getting tired of being told what to feel, how to think, we want to create our own conclusions based off raw, prima facie evidence. We are tired of water downed half truths, lies, and clear misinformation that have become the 'norm' in our daily dose of content intake. The endless stream of paid loud mouths disseminating information for us, trying to shove one agenda or another down our throats. The poorly informed god fearing public, trusting of science and Government, have now been mislead into a point of no return for humanity. I know many of you reading this are now wondering if I'd lost my mind and faith in God, but rest assured I will never waver on principle. The deception which you will expose for yourself as you undertake the study of history, will force much pain out of your body and many tears lay ahead. As your eyes open to a world which you have never seen, know that you are not alone, and this too was a part of everyones journey.

Our aim is to provide you, the reader, with PROVENANCE, original, sources of information to help you combat the appeal to burden of proof. For when you carry the burden of proof, you will vanquish the errors and fallacies that befall us all. We have prepared a journey for you that will educate you on the ancient and the archaic. You will learn by the same system of education, known as the Trivium, that was used to educate the worlds brightest minds since the days of Pythagoras. The Ecclesiastical books in the 'Resource Library' section on our website bulletproofpub.com with have you conversing on par with theologians, for without scripture we are just reading the words of men.

The content before you is a collage of citations, quotes, references, images and anything relevant to stimulate your god given sense of inquiry. All the information is original, vetted to source, referenced and peer reviewed. Its place in truth firmly planted, it is entirely up to you what you will take away from reading this zine. If you are offended by any of the content please be advised it is pulled from source, and has absolutely no attachment to my opinion, personal feeling, or written word. You will have to take your fight up with the source, most if not all pushing daisies for centuries. I cannot stress that everything contained herein is true, your belief is not required. The choice to live in denial of truth now rests on your heart, for I have exhausted every effort to bring it to you. God speed!

One Sun - A pseudonym

Many new things are being discovered in these days of rapid advancement. Things which a few years ago would be called marvelous now excite but little wonder. Solomon was not far wrong when he said : " The thing which hath been, it is that which shall be ; and that which is done, is that which shall be done ; and there is no new thing under the sun." Principles and laws are eternal, unchangeable, but the results of these laws are of infinite variety. Like the ever changing views of the kaleidoscope, new and significant combinations are being constantly produced, with the ceaseless onward spiral move of life. Man is slowly evolving out of the obscurities of 1822 – 1895 – Louis Pasteur, French biologist, microbiologist and chemist popularises the lucrative germ theory that the Rockefeller's invested in in modern times this masquerade (the germ theory) became the explanation for most disease with that great fraud and plagiarist, Louis Pasteur, father of the germ theory.

It was Louis Pasteur who convinced a skeptical medical community that contagious germs cause disease; his "germ theory" now serves as the official explanation for most illness. However, in his private diaries he states unequivocally that in his entire career he was not once able to transfer disease with a pure culture of bacteria (he obviously wasn't able to purify viruses at that time).

He admitted that the whole effort to prove contagion was a failure, leading to his famous death bed confession that "the germ is nothing, the terrain is everything."

1816 – 1908 - Antoine Béchamp, a bitter rival to Louis Pasteur, teaches about "Biological Terrain" Theory

If the medical community were honest, it would be forced to admit that the model of disease that catapulted Pasteur to fame has played itself out and is pushing us to disability and death.

Editor's Note: This article, and many others like it, argue that the Louis Pasteur teaching about "germ theory" is wrong-headed and making society SICKER. Vaccines are HARMING PEOPLE much more than they are helping.

The reason Pasteur's ideas have stuck is because Pasteur had political connections, including Emperor Napoleon III, his views "were in tune with the science and politics of his day" and (most importantly) pharmaceutical executives saw they could use Pasteur's "germ theory" to MAKE A LOT OF MONEY! And isn't that true in this Corona Scandal, where new drug pusher billionaires are being minted on the back of this SCAM.

positum haud ita pridem adeptus, pecunias summam magnam non inertem reliquisti, sed Matris almae in manus totam collocasti, et Matris eiusdem filii omnibus liberalitatis exemplar conspicuum praebuisti. Cancellarii autem ad officium hodie admissus, sine dubio iura et privilegia nostra omnia in tutelam tuam tradita, si quando opus fuerit, fortiter defendes. Tuo, ut speramus, sub patrocinio, non scientiarum modo studia floreant, sed etiam, praemiis a Cancellario ipso iuventuti Academicæ quotannis propositis, et iuris et litterarum Graecarum, Latinarum, Anglicarum, amor, sicut antea, accendatur. In his reply the Chancellor expressed his sense of the honour the Senate had done him in electing him to the high office, and mentioned his close connection with Cambridge, "the nursing home of Herschel, Airy, Stokes, Kelvin, and of Adams," both as student and as professor. Lord Rayleigh also recalled the fact that he had served, under the Act of 1877, on the Commission which framed the new statutes for the University and colleges; in fact, he and the Bishop of Bristol, who acted as secretary, are the sole survivors of that Commission. He spoke of the reforms which had been then effected, and referred to the view that they may still need supplementing, and he dwelt for a moment on the fact that the efficiency of the University would be promoted by the command of ample resources. The Chancellor paid a tribute to the late Duke of Devonshire, whose quiet and persistent interest in the University manifested itself in many ways. Indeed, his unremitting efforts to advance its welfare are probably only recognised by those who were brought into contact with him, both as head of the University and as president of the Cambridge Association.

In choosing Lord Rayleigh as its Chancellor, Cambridge has chosen one of the most distinguished men of science of the age, and one whom we feel sure will devote his energies to the promotion of the good of that ancient institution. In these days chancellors of universities have a good deal more to do than even the members of the Senate usually recognise. Apart from occasional appearances at ceremonies there is much and continuous work to be done; the interpretation of the statutes rests with the Chancellor, and in many ways he represents the University in the larger world. The new Chancellor of Oxford has shown what can be done even in a few months of wise activity in re-awakening interest in the older universities, and in defining and formulating a definite policy of expansion.

PIERRE JACQUES ANTOINE BÉCHAMP.

BY the death of Béchamp, on April 15, at the ripe age of ninety-two, France lost the doyen of her chemists, and the world of science is the poorer by the disappearance of one more link connecting the new chemistry with the old. The nature of that link will be evident from the circumstance that Béchamp was born in the same year as Gerhardt, and that the period of his greatest scientific activity was contemporaneous with that of Laurent and Gerhardt.

Béchamp was born at Bassing, near Dieuze (Meurthe), on October 16, 1816. He lost his parents when he was eleven years of age, and was taken charge of by an uncle, who had settled in Roumania, and with whom he remained until 1834. In his seventeenth year he was apprenticed to a pharmacist at Strasburg. Pharmacy at that period constituted the main avenue to scientific chemistry, and in traversing it Béchamp simply followed in the footsteps of a dozen of his predecessors, some of whom, like Scheele, Vauquelin, Dumas, are among the most renowned of chemical investigators. At Strasburg, at that period, were Gerhardt and Wurtz, and, as in their case, Béchamp was soon attracted to the study of the rapidly extending branch of organic chemistry, and made ample use of the opportunities which his master's laboratory afforded to prosecute his inquiries. At that time, even in England, pharmacy was a profession, and the pharmacist was a practical chemist, abreast of the science of his time, whose laboratory was of more importance to him than his shop.

In 1851 Béchamp became attached to the School of Pharmacy at Strasburg, and thenceforth devoted himself to an academic career. Pasteur was then a professor of the Faculty of Science of Strasburg, and to him Béchamp presented a thesis on the newly discovered gun-cotton, which gained for him his doctorate of science in 1853. In 1856, at the age of forty, he became a doctor of medicine, and in the following year was appointed to the chair of medical chemistry in the Faculty of Medicine at Montpellier.

Béchamp was a prolific contributor to the literature of chemistry. The Royal Society's Catalogue of Scientific Papers enumerates upwards of 140 papers which proceeded from his pen down to the year 1873. As he continued his activity to the last, the total number cannot fall short of a couple of hundred. In addition he published a number of scientific treatises in book-form, mainly relating to chemical biology.

Béchamp's work ranged over nearly every department of chemistry. Inorganic chemistry appears, however, to have had little attraction for him, and his name is associated with not more than a dozen communications in that branch of inquiry.

It is mainly in connection with the early history of what is called coal-tar chemistry, and more especially in connection with the fields of investigation with which the name of Pasteur is preeminently associated, that Béchamp's services will be recalled. The method of manufacturing aniline ultimately made use of by Perkin in England, and by the brothers Renard in France, was due to Béchamp. It consisted in the action of ferrous acetate on nitrobenzene, and appears to have been first made known in 1854. He also contributed to the French Academy in 1860-61 communications on fuchsine and allied colouring matters.

But it was to the domain of biological chemistry that Béchamp's energies were principally directed, and he took an active part in the inquiries and controversies which ultimately led to the triumph of Pasteur and his immediate followers. Although much of Béchamp's work on fermentation, on the production of moulds, on the silk-worm disease, and on zymases ran parallel with Pasteur's inquiries, his interpretation of the phenomena was generally opposed to that of Pasteur, and the two investigators were frequently in acute controversy on these subjects. Béchamp's fame has probably suffered in consequence. We must, however, do him the justice to admit that his main contention, that unorganised ferments play a larger and more important part in the phenomena of metabolism than the immediate followers of Pasteur were willing to concede, is intrinsically sound. Béchamp developed his views into a general theory, which he published in 1866, whilst at Montpellier, in a work entitled "Microzymas et Microbes. Origine des ferments." This he supplemented some years later by a further work, "Les Microzymas dans leurs rapports avec l'hétérogénie, l'histogénie, la physiologie et la pathologie," Paris, 1883. Whatever may be the ultimate fate of his theoretical conceptions, his experimental work on blood, fibrin, milk, proteins, and his position in regard to the great and fruitful controversies of half a century ago out of which modern bacteriological doctrine has sprung, will ensure him an honourable place among the founders of biological chemistry.

On the creation of the Faculty of Medicine at Lille, Béchamp accepted the offer of a chair, and he remained there, as Dean, until his resignation in 1887, when he retired to Paris, and, accepting the hospitality of Friedel's laboratory in the rue Michelet, continued his biological inquiries, occupying himself to the end in searching for support for the comprehensive generalisation of organic change on which his fame will ultimately rest.

NOTES.

THE Croonian lecture of the Royal Society will be delivered on Thursday next, May 14, by Prof. G. Retzius, upon the subject of "The Structure of the Central Nervous System of the Higher and Lower Animals."

THE President of the Board of Trade has appointed a committee to prepare a programme for the consideration of the delegates to the International Conference on Electrical Units and Standards to be held in London in the ensuing autumn, and to make arrangements for the reception and assembly of the delegates attending the conference. The members of the committee are Mr. G. R. Askwith, K.C., Sir John Gavey, C.B., Dr. R. T. Glazebrook, F.R.S., Major P. A. MacMahon, F.R.S., Major W. A. J. O'Meara, R.E., C.M.G., and Mr. A. P. Trotter. Mr. M. J. Collins, of the Board of Trade, will act as secretary to the committee.

M. BIGOURDAN read a paper at the meeting of the Paris Academy of Sciences on April 27 on the use of wireless telegraphy for weather forecasting. He pointed out that our weather is associated with the passage of atmospheric depressions arriving from the west, and generally from parts of the Atlantic situated north of 35° N. latitude, and it is estimated that about one-half of these depressions come from North America, whilst the others form in the open Atlantic. To forecast the arrival of depressions it is necessary to have observations from the open ocean. Floating observatories have been suggested, coupled with the continents on either side of the Atlantic. M. Bigourdan suggests that steamships should communicate, to the responsible authorities, their position and meteorological observations by wireless telegraphy, and by this means modify and improve our conditions for weather forecasting to the benefit of the general community. For some time past our English Meteorological Office has published in its Daily Weather Report wireless telegrams from ships of His Majesty's Navy.

THE sixteenth Congress of German Electrotechnical Engineers will be held at Erfurt on June 11-14.

THE Entomological Society will hold a conversazione on Friday, May 15, in the rooms of the Civil Service Commission, Burlington Gardens.

THE Rumford medal of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences has been awarded to Dr. E. G. Acheson, of Niagara Falls, for his work with the electric furnace.

THE Chemical Society of Rome, the Chemical Society of Milan, and the Association of Industrial Chemists of Turin will, from January 1, 1909, be united under the name of the Italian Chemical Society.

PROF. W. H. WALKER, professor of technical chemistry at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has been awarded the Nichols medal by the New York Section of the American Chemical Society.

MESSAGES from Catania report that dense clouds of vapour issued from the central crater of Mount Etna on April 29. The crater of 1852 in the Valle del Bove was also in eruption. On May 2 the volcano was again in active eruption, and a stream of lava was slowly advancing.

A CONVERSAZIONE will be given by the Medical Society of London on Monday, May 18, in the rooms of the society, Chandos Street, Cavendish Square. After the reception by the president, the Fothergillian medal will be presented to Sir Almaro Wright, F.R.S. An oration will be given by Mr. T. Clinton Dent on the subject of the after results of injuries.

ON Tuesday next, May 12, Prof. F. T. Trouton will begin a course of two lectures at the Royal Institution on (1) "Why Light is believed to be a Vibration"; (2) "What it is which Vibrates." The Friday evening discourse on May 15 will be delivered by Dr. H. T. Hulstede on "The Past and Future of Tuberculosis," and on May 22 by Prof. J. C. Kapteyn on "Recent Researches in the Structure of the Universe."

At the Institution of Electrical Engineers on April 30 Prof. Silvanus P. Thompson, F.R.S., gave the first Kelvin memorial lecture, his subject being "The Life and Work of Lord Kelvin." Before the lecture was delivered Mr. H. F. Parshall presented the institution with a bust of Benjamin Franklin on behalf of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers as a souvenir of their visit to England about a year and a half ago. The gift was acknowledged by Lieut.-Colonel R. E. Crompton, the president of the institution.

THE sixteenth International Congress of Americanists will be held under the presidency of Baron Weckbecker at the University of Vienna on September 9-14. The object of the congress is to promote scientific inquiries into the history of both Americas and of their inhabitants. Communications may be oral or written, and may be in one of several languages, English included. For further information application should be made to Herr Franz Heger, Vienna (Austria), I. Burgling 7. A programme will be issued early in the summer.

PROF. ANGELO MOSSO, of Turin, writes to remind us of the fact, to which attention was directed in an article by the late Sir Michael Foster in NATURE of March 9, 1905 (vol. lxxi., p. 445), that the Royal Society has the right to nominate two investigators to occupy tables in the Monte Rosa and Col D'Olen international laboratories. The tables are available for the study of botany, bacteriology, zoology, physiology, terrestrial physics, and meteorology. The two tables at the disposal of the Royal Society are, it will be remembered, due to the generosity of Dr. Ludwig Mond, F.R.S.

At the annual general meeting of the Institution of Civil Engineers on April 28, Mr. J. C. Inglis was elected president of the institution. The council has made the following awards for papers read and discussed during the past session:—a Telford gold medal to Mr. W. Barclay Parsons (New York); a Watt gold medal to Sir Whately Eliot; George Stephenson gold medals to Sir John Ottley, K.C.I.E., Dr. A. W. Brightmore, and Messrs. J. S. Wilson and W. The Sign of Nimrod

The "Sign of Nimrod" is popular in "Jesus" paintings and a number of statues. Even the supposed "Baby Jesus" (who is really Nimrod, son of the Queen of Babylon) is seen holding up these two fingers. These examples of the "Two fingers," derived from Satanic origins, as seen in the Baphomet photo:

This sign is called the Bowman Sign, and I will explain it in Book-8 "Entertainment" under the section titled, "Bowman." In short, it's a Satanic symbol that symbolizes, "One who is against God, standing before God as His enemy." The "Bowman" exalts the horns of Satan over the 3 fingers of the Trinity. "The Sign of Nimrod" or "Sign of the Bowman" the position of one's fingers to draw back the string on a bow. In the Bible the bow symbolizes wicked men. Genesis 10:8-9, 21:20, 27:3, Psalms 11:2, 37:14, Jeremiah 51:1-3, Ezekiel 39:3, Revelation 6:2.

The photo to the right is an illustration of Cupid (Nimrod as a child) trying to get his bow from his evil mother and soon to be wife, Semiramis. The two fingers in all the photos above secretly depict the true identity of who the world believes is "Jesus," But in actuality it's Nimrod "The Mighty Hunter," and the one who was against God. It takes two fingers to pull back the string of a bow and that's that's how this two-finger gesture became famous, and because Nimrod was against God, occults who shared Nimrod's ideology, soon took the two-finger symbol as their own including the Catholic Church.

THERE IS NO SUCH THING AS A GERM, A VIRUS OR BACTERIA

There is no such thing as a germ, a virus or bacteria. It is a microbe that is generated in the body when erosion begins. For example, if you take a very healthy human being and lay him on a table without moving him for a month, when you raise him from the table what is he going to have on his back? A BED SORE. Believe it or not, inside that bedsore you will find some worms, but you did not touch or move him so where did they come from and where were they birthed? INSIDE THE MAN HIM SELF! It was the part of his body that was lacking oxygen. You will never see bedsores at the top of a person, it is found at the bottom. THE DEPRAVATION OF OXYGEN IS THE CAUSE OF ALL DISEASE.

Mucous forming foods (unnatural foods) robs your body of oxygen and they suck up all your moisture. This creates the environment for disease (erosion) to begin. The example made above can also be done with food. For instance, if you take an apple and place it inside an oxygen free vessel. Within 14 days you will begin to see a break down and then you'll see the little worms coming out of the apple. So where did the worms come from. It came from inside the apple its self. So as you can see there is no virus, germ or bacteria.

WARNINGS OF VIRUS IN 1981

TWO authors appeared to predict corona-virus decades before the outbreak.

Dean Koontz's thriller The Eyes Of Darkness, published in 1981, tells the story of a lethal man-made virus in Wuhan - the same Chinese city where coronavirus broke out.

In another spooky coincidence, the dooms-day book End Of Days - written by American psychic Sylvia Browne and published in 2008 - predicted there would be a pneumonia-like global pandemic in 2020.

Stop pretending that the "science is settled" and that "all the experts agree". There is no such thing as settled science and there are thousands of recognized and reputable doctors, virologists, scientists and epidemiologists all over the world who have been boldly speaking out against the mainstream media narrative for several months. If you don't already know this, it simply proves that you don't know what's going on. You are not a hero out saving lives. Your mask isn't a cape. You are simply virtue signaling and doing exactly what your television is telling you to do—and that's nothing to brag about.

8 And unto the Angel of the Church in Smyrna, write, These things saith the first and the last, which was dead, and is alive,

9 I know thy works, and tribulation, and poverty, but thou art rich, and I know the blasphemy of them which say they are Jews and are not, but are the Synagogue of Satan.

10 Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried, and ye shall have tribulation ten days: be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life.

Military-entertainment complex - Wikipedia

The military-entertainment complex is the cooperation between the military and entertainment industries to their mutual benefit, especially in such fields as cinema, multimedia and virtual reality. In Hollywood, many movie productions were directly supervised by the Department of Defense.

The time frame is ten years – by 2030 – the UN agenda 2021 – 2030 should be implemented.

Planned business measures in response to COVID-19:

- An acceleration of digitized work processes, leading to 84% of all work processes as digital, or virtual / video conferences.
- Some 83% of people are planned to work remotely – i.e. no more interaction between colleagues – absolute social distancing, separation of humanity from the human contact.
- About 50% of all tasks are planned to be automated – in other words, human input will be drastically diminished, even while remote working.
- Accelerate the digitization of upskilling / reskilling (e.g. education technology providers) – 42% of skill upgrading or training for new skills will be digitized, in other words, no human contact – all on computer, Artificial Intelligence (AI), algorithms.
- Accelerate the implementation of upskilling / reskilling programs – 35% of skills are planned to be “re-tooled” – i.e. existing skills are planned to be abandoned – declared defunct.
- Accelerate ongoing organizational transformations (e.g. restructuring) – 34% of current organizational set-ups are planned to be “restructured” – or, in other words, existing organizational structures will be declared obsolete – to make space for new sets of organizational frameworks, digital structures that provide utmost control over all activities.
- Temporarily reassign workers to different tasks – this is expected to touch 30% of the work force. That also means completely different pay-scales – most probably unlivable wages, which would make the also planned “universal basic salary” or “basic income” – a wage that allows you barely to survive, an obvious need. – But it would make you totally dependent on the system – a digital system, where you have no control whatsoever.
- Temporarily reduce workforce – this is projected as affecting 28% of the population. It is an additional unemployment figure, in disguise, as the “temporarily” will never come back to full-time.
- Permanently reduce workforce – 13% permanently reduced workforce.
- Temporarily increase workforce – 5% – there is no reference to what type of workforce – probably unskilled labor that sooner or later will also be replaced by automation, by AI and robotization of the workplace.
- No specific measures implemented – 4% – does that mean, a mere 4% will remain untouched? From the algorithm and AI-directed new work places? – as small and insignificant as the figure is, it sounds like “wishful thinking”, never to be accomplished.
- Permanently increase workforce – a mere 1% is projected as “permanently increased workforce”. This is of course not even cosmetics. It is a joke.

This is the what is being put forth, the process of implementing The Great Reset and the Covid-19 agenda is part of this process.

Carroll Quigley (1910-1977)

Carroll Quigley was a professor of history at Georgetown University School of Foreign Service. Quigley was one of Bill Clinton's professors while he was a student at Georgetown.

"There does exist, and has existed for a generation, an international Anglophile network which operates, to some extent, in the way the radical Right believes the Communists act. In fact, this network, which we may identify as the Round Table Groups, has no aversion to cooperating with the Communists, or any other groups, and frequently does so. I know of the operations of this network because I have studied it for twenty years and was permitted for two years, in the early 1960's, to examine its papers and secret records. I have no aversion to it or to most of its aims and have, for much of my life, been close to it and to many of its instruments...At the end of the war of 1914, it became clear that the organization of this system had to be greatly extended. Once again the task was entrusted to Lionel Curtis who established, in England and each dominion, a front organization to the existing local Round Table Group. This front organization, called the Royal Institute of International Affairs, had as its nucleus in each area the existing submerged Round Table Group. In New York it was known as the Council on Foreign Relations, and was a front for J. P. Morgan and Company in association with the very small American Round Table Group. The American organizers were dominated by the large number of Morgan "experts," including Lamont and Beer, who had gone to the Paris Peace Conference and there became close friends with the similar group of English "experts" which had been recruited by the Milner group. In fact, the original plans for the Royal Institute of International Affairs and the Council on Foreign Relations were drawn up at Paris." – Carroll Quigley, Tragedy and Hope, p. 950-952

Russian Revolutionary Mikhail Bakunin's Description of Karl Marx: In His Own Words

Mikhail Bakunin (1814-1876)

“Marx is a Jew and is surrounded by a crowd of little, more or less intelligent, scheming, agile, speculating Jews, just as Jews are everywhere – commercial and banking agents, writers, politicians, correspondents for newspapers of all shades; in short, literary brokers, just as they are financial brokers, with one foot in the bank and the other in the socialist movement, and their arses sitting upon the German press. They have grabbed hold of all newspapers, and you can imagine what a nauseating literature is the outcome of it...Now this entire Jewish world, which constitutes an exploiting sect, a people of leeches, a voracious parasite, closely and intimately connected with another, regardless not only of frontiers but of political differences as well -- this Jewish world is today largely at the disposal of Marx or Rothschild. I am sure that, on the one hand, the Rothschilds appreciate the merits of Marx, and that on the other hand, Marx feels an instinctive inclination and a great respect for the Rothschilds. This may seem strange. What could there be in common between communism and high finance? Ho ho! The communism of Marx seeks a strong state centralization, and where this exists, there the parasitic Jewish nation -- which speculates upon the labor of people -- will always find the means for its existence...In reality, this would be for the proletariat a barrack-regime, under which the workingmen and the workingwomen, converted into a uniform mass, would rise, fall asleep, work, and live at the beat of the drum. The privilege of ruling would be in the hands of the skilled and the learned, with a wide scope left for profitable crooked deals carried on by the Jews, who would be attracted by the enormous extension of the international speculations of the national banks...”

The [Jewish] casino mogul Sheldon Adelson . . . summoned [in 2014] . . . the four most probable Republican candidates for the next presidential elections, in order to choose one of them. . . . The politicians groveled before the casino lord. Mighty governors of important states did their best to sell themselves like applicants at a job interview. Each of them tried to trump the others in promising to do the Mogul's bidding.

Flanked by Israeli bodyguards, Adelson grilled the American hopefuls. And what was he demanding from the future president of the United States? First of all and above everything else, blind and unconditional obedience to the government of another state: Israel. — Uri Avnery

As one man, the Jewish advertisers withdrew their advertisements from Mr. Bennett's newspapers. Their assigned reason was that the Herald was showing animosity against the Jews. The real purpose of their action was to crush an American newspaper owner who dared be independent of them. — Henry Ford's The International Jew; vol. 2, chapter 39

The conscious and intelligent manipulation of the organized habits and opinions of the masses is an important element in democratic society. Those who manipulate this unseen mechanism of society constitute an invisible government which is the true ruling power of our country. — the Jew Edward Bernays

Newspaper control . . . by the Jews is not a matter of money. It is a matter of keeping certain things out of the public mind and putting certain things into it. — Henry Ford's The International Jew; vol. 1, chapter 17

Money, press, and votes determine life and death in a democracy. The Jews control all of them, and through these the Romanian political parties turned into simple tools in the hands of the Judaic power. — Corneliu Zelea Codreanu; For My Legionaries

Behind the Balfour Declaration: Britain's Great War Pledge To Lord Rothschild

THE MEANING FOR US

ROBERT JOHN

- Paper Presented to the Fifth International Revisionist Conference.

Acknowledgements

To Benjamin H. Freedman, who committed himself to finding and telling the facts about Zionism and Communism, and encouraged others to do the same. The son of one of the founders of the American Jewish Committee, which for many years was anti-Zionist, Ben Freedman founded the League for Peace with Justice in Palestine in 1946. He gave me copies of materials on the Balfour Declaration which I might never have found on my own and encouraged my own research. (He died in April 1984.)

The Institute for Historical Review is providing means for the better understanding of the events of our time.

Attempts to review historical records impartially often reveal that blame, culpability, or dishonor are not to be attached wholly to one side in the conflicts of the last hundred years. To seek to untangle fact from propaganda is a worthy study, for it increases understanding of how we got where we are and it should help people resist exploitation by powerful and destructive interests in the present and future, by exposing their working in the past.

May I recommend to the Nobel Prize Committee that when the influence of this organization's historical review and search for truth has prevailed the societies of its contributors -- say about 5 years or less from now -- that they consider the IHR for the Nobel Peace Prize.

Regrettably, some of the company in that award would be hard to bear!

The Balfour Declaration may be the most extraordinary document produced by any Government in world history. It took the form of a letter from the Government of His Britannic Majesty King George the Fifth, the Government of the largest empire the world has even known, on which -- once upon a time -- the sun never set; a letter to an international financier of the banking house of Rothschild who had been made a peer of the realm.

Arthur Koestler wrote that in the letter "one nation solemnly promised to a second nation the country of a third." More than that, the country was still part of the Empire of a fourth, namely Turkey.

"The reason the world is not seeing Jesus is that Christian people are not filled with Jesus. They are satisfied with attending meetings weekly, reading the Bible occasionally, and praying sometimes. It is an awful thing for me to see people who profess to be Christians lifeless, powerless, and in a place where their lives are so parallel to unbelievers' lives that it is difficult to tell which place they are in, whether in the flesh or in the Spirit."

of the favourite opinions among the Arabian as well as the earlier European alchemists (an opinion entertained by Albertus Magnus amongst others) that Hermes Trismegistus was the father of their science. That august personage is represented as having flourished two thousand years before the appearance of Christ. According to Kriegsman, Avicenna and other Arabian polypharmists believed that Sarah took a table made of zatadi, supposed to have been emeralds, from the hands of Hermes, entombed in a cave near Hebron. On this table were inscribed the dogmas of the master concerning his chemical secrets, in thirteen mysterious sentences. In the twelfth of these enunciations, he informs the discerning public that on him 'was imposed the name of Hermes Trismegistus, because he was the ordained doctor of three parts of the wisdom of the world.' Now, although the very name of this supposed interpreter, not to speak of still more obvious internal evidences, is quite sufficient to prove the purely mythical character of the whole story, the existence of this tradition among both the eastern and the western adepts, seems to render it not unlikely that the etymology of the word is connected with Egypt. Borrichius's own private opinion is clearly to the effect, that the hermetic art descended from Tubal-Cain or Vulcan; but he allows that there is much to be said in favour of Trismegistus, who has been supposed by some to have been Chanaan, the son of Ham, whose son Mizraim first occupied Egypt.

It has to be mentioned, in fact, that the word Thoth, the Egyptian name for Hermes Trismegistus, means a pillar, according to Josephus and Manetho; in which, it seems, they are corroborated by Jablonski. The truth of the matter appears to be, that pillars were early used by the Egyptians for the same purposes as parchment and paper have been employed by the literary men of more modern nations. These pillars were their books and standard body of literature. It further appears that there were three successive Thoths or schemes of inscription; that is to say, three dispensations or epochs of pillared literature. The first set are said to have reached down to the time of the Flood; the second contained all that was discovered or thought during the infancy of the scientific knowledge of these ancient people; and the third was the embodiment or publication of the full-grown science of Egypt. Hence the whole system of pillars was readily impersonated under the mythical appellation of Hermes Trismegistus, the thrice-great interpreter, as the name implies. It is, accordingly, easy to understand how that illustrious and encyclopædical author was subsequently represented as having composed thirty thousand volumes! It must be confessed that all this looks very satisfactory, not only as explaining the traditionary story of Trismegistus, but also as confirmatory of the historic hint that the word chemistry is of Egyptian origin, as has already been shewn to be not unlikely.

On the other hand, it has been customary among more recent critics than these mediæval speculators to make the root of alchemy a Greek word. It has been supposed to be derived from χυμν, which signifies juice or menstruum; and to refer to the acids, leys, and other solvents in use among chemists and alchemists. This was the favourite etymology among the very latest of the European adepts; and it gave rise to the spelling of the word with y—alchymy. Boerhaave contended that it was drawn from the Greek verb meaning to fuse or melt, χίω; and ever since the inculca-

What is the Talmud?: "In the Talmud it is written: 'Only the Jew is human. Gentile peoples are not called humans, but animals.' Since we Jews see Gentiles as animals, we call them only Goy."

Jewish Talmud

Even the best of Goyim should all be killed.

(Yebamoth 98a)

All children of Goyim are animals.

(Sanhedrin 58b)

If a Goy hits a Jew he must be killed.

When a Jew murders a gentile there will be no death penalty.

(Tospoth Jebamoth 84b)

When the Messiah comes every Jew will have 2800 Gentiles slaves.

(Midrasch Talpioth p225-L)

The Jesuits are in fact Jewish

One of the most devastating things to the notion that the Jesuits are at the top of this thing is the fact that more than a lot of the Jesuits are in fact Jewish. The Jesuit Order is in reality a Jewish Order masquerading as a Catholic one as a cover, so even if they were at the top it's still a Jewish conspiracy.

"We Jesuits take pleasure in admitting those of Jewish ancestry." - J. Nadal Morey

An excellent resource documenting all the so called Jesuits who are really Jews turned Catholic, hence "crypto-Jews", can be found at JewishJesuits.com. The Jesuit Order in its founding was very much Jewish. All five of its founding members were Marrano Jews (i.e. Jews masquerading as Christians).

Ignatius Loyola - Founder of the Jesuit Order (Jewish)

Alfonso Salmeron - Jewish

Diego Lainez - Jewish

Nicolas Bodadilla - Jewish

Simao Rodriguez - Jewish

In his article Synagogue of Satan, John S. Torell states:

“In 1491 San Ignacio De Loyola was born in the Basque province of Guipuzcoa, Spain. His parents were Marranos and at the time of his birth the family was very wealthy. As a young man he became a member of the Jewish Illuminati Order in Spain. As a cover for his crypto Jewish activities, he became very active as a Roman Catholic.”

Marranos are Spanish Jews who outwardly converted to a different religion, often times Roman Catholic, in order to evade persecution and expulsion for their treacherous actions, while secretly maintaining the religion of Judaism as well as practicing the Cabbala (Jewish Mysticism).

Furthermore, Loyola's secretary, Polanco, was also of Jewish descent and was the only person present at Loyola's deathbed. James Lainez who succeeded Loyola as the second Jesuit General was also of Jewish descent. (#) Add a (W) after the (E) in Jesuits and what do you get? Jewsuits. A more fitting name.

THE TOP FIVE REASONS WHY JEWS GOT EXPELLED FROM MANY PLACES IN THE PAST

Many Jews still bear false witness by teaching their children that "anti-Jewish sentiment" was the main reason to blame for Jews getting expelled from regions over the centuries. But the real reasons for their expulsion included:

1. The genocidal intent of their "holy" books (Talmud, Kabbalah, Zohar, "Protocols"), which all call first for the property of all non-Jews to be transferred to the Jews and then for most or all non-Jews to be genocided. The overall attitude among Jews is that goyim-gentiles are two-legged beasts who were made to serve them (as decreed by their "holy" books) because Jews must be waited upon but never have to work;
2. The human sacrifice of Christians, especially of Christian children, and the consumption of their drained blood, still done today, especially after mixing it with the special Matzah bread on the feast of Passover;
3. The fact that most rabbis concede that Judaism is in fact a polytheistic cult, whereby a minority of rabbis worship only God, but most rabbis worship a combination of God, Satan, Lucifer, Baal, Molech and others;
4. Usury, which was outlawed by most Popes for most centuries but somehow made a comeback;
5. The "holy" tradition whereby Jews are permitted to lie to all non-Jews with impunity by merely uttering the KOL NIDRE prayer, a self-absolution from all their lies and contract-breaches over the coming year.
